At a Montana Dancing Party.

Correspondence Troy Times.

Way up in Montana they celebrated a holiday with a ball at a ranch. Every body for fifty miles around was invited, and everybody accepted. Among the rest came Bill Tollock, a herder. Some came in the only suit of clothes they had, comprising boots, pants, shirt and hat; others had fished up a coat somewhere; a few had regular suits of store clothes. Among these favored ones was Tollock. He was all in shape for the ball excepting his collar, and that was two sizes too large and he couldn't fasten it behind. But he jumped in and danced every dance that offered; his collar bothered him. It would persistently rise and assert itself. It climbed half way up his head, and the harder Bill danced the more he perspired and his collar "clim." In consequence, he was compelled to drop his partner at frequent intervals, and pull down his collar for a fresh start. One gay young partner, who came from San Francisco, and was the belle of the ball, became somewhat impatient over the frequent hitches, and Bill, who had been as captivating as possible, tried to soothe her. And this is what he said, absolute fact: "This ere collar is kind of hitchety. That cussed Chinamen washed it so hard he stretched it, and I can't make it fit. It keeps a gittin' up on my neck, but its all right, Susie. I'll know better, next time we have a dance. If you are there, and I haven't got a better collar on than this, I'll keep it down as slick as a saw-mill, and don't you forget it." Here Bill whispered: "I'll just wear a crupper!" I might report a good many of Langford's anecdotes, but the rest must be reserved for an audience not more select but less numerous than the Times readers.

A Big Rat Story.

The Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer tells the following rat story: Some years ago its informant was living at a farm the barn of which was burned, and with it many rats. Some of the animals escaped, however, with serious injuries, and took up their abode under piles of lumber near a creek. At this place one came out, drank and returned with a straw in its mouth. Walking up to the lumber he pushed this straw under, and presently another came out, holding the other end of the straw. The first then started for the creek, leading his companion (which was afterward found to be blind) to the water. After the blind one had drank they returned in the same manner.

IN 1871 Booth's majority for Governor in California was 5,061; in 1875 the Democrats, with three candidates in the field, had a majority over all of 435; in 1876 the majority for Hayes was 2,805. A plurality for Perkins in 1870 of 23,000 would indicate a Republican revival on the Pacific coast.

"THE NEW SILVER BILL."

General Bill 9,909.—"An act to establish the shortest, quickest and most direct route from all points in the East to the Great Gold and Silver Mines of Colorado."

Be it enacted by the people of the United States, that they shall travel only by the route offering the least changes of cars, surest connections, with all the latest improvements for the comforts and convenience of the traveling public, between the East and the Great West.

The press and the people all unite in pronouncing the "Old Reliable" Hannibal and St. Joseph R. R. the only line which can offer these inducements.

They are the only line running through Day Coaches and Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars between Toledo, Ohio, via Defiance, Fort Wayne, Peru, Logansport, LaFayette, Danville, Tolono, Decatur, Springfield, Jacksonville and Quincy, to the Missouri river without change. The only line running Day Coaches between Indianapolis and Missouri river, via Danville Junction and Quincy, without change, and a Daily Line of Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars, and the Celebrated HORTON RECLINING CHAIR CARS, between Chicago, via Aurora, Mendota, Galesburg and Quincy, to Kansas City, without change, making sure and close connections for all points in Kansas, Nebraska and the Gold Fields of Colorado. Our rates to Leadville and other points in Colorado and the Great West are always as cheap as by any other line.

THURSDAY EVENING, SEPT. 11, 1879.

NOTHING new from Maine to day, but it's all right.

'TIS said that there will be music in the air at the council meeting to-night.

THE Globe-Democrat, in order to sail on the top of both booms, wants it to be Grant and Blaine.

AT Dallas, Tex., the Republicans propose to fire 100 guns when they hear of Grant's arrival at San Francisco.

THE condition of affairs in the Democratic party in New York is anything but lovely. Tammany threatens terrible things if Robinson is nominated, and the heads dare not disregard Tammany.

THE Massachusetts Republican State Committee has issued a short address to the members of the Republican party in the state at large, inviting them to the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the birth of the party, at Worcester, Sept. 15. The grand achievements of this noble and patriotic political organization are thus briefly but emphatically set forth.

The party which in twenty five years, has abolished slavery, has subdued a gigantic rebellion; has added to our national family six young states; has enforced apology and reparation from Great Britain; has compelled foreign Governments to abandon the doctrine of perpetual allegiance; has preserved the public faith inviolate, has paid $700,000,000 of public debt; has made the national currency equal in value to gold the world over; has re-established and assured the prosperity of labor, commerce, agriculture and manufactures, and has exhibited for a generation in our own state a model of wise, honest, humane and economical government.

THE late Gen. Hood finished the manuscript of his history of the Western army of the Confederacy just before his death. It is stated that he advances the opinion that the Confederates made great mistakes at Shiloh and Atlanta. A bold dash at either point, he held, would have secured victory for the rebels. Gen. Hood was wedded to the theory that a bold dash would demoralize and defeat any Union force. He talked so much about it that he was almost allowed to put it to the test with the army that had been commanded by Johnston and Bragg, and he made his bold dash on Gen. Thomas, and came out of the conflict the worst whipped man in the South. His book was written to answer the criticisms of Confederate Generals who could not conceal their exultation over his defeat at Nashville and Franklin.

Indiana for Grant.

From the Milwaukee Signal.

Great interest is taken in the politics of Indiana; so much so, that each party invariably try to get a Hoosier to take the second place on the national ticket. Judge Martindale is thoroughly posted on the situation, and his talk should be given great consideration.

Reporter—"What is Indiana going to do for Grant next year?"

Judge Martindale: "Well, sir, Indiana Republicans are for Grant almost to a man. Grant can carry the state by a large majority, and don't you forget it. It is true there is an interne cine struggle in the Republican party, and Sherman and still others have wild, erratic admirers, but the state will go for Grant."

Diphtheria.

It is claimed that a new and very efficacious method has been discovered for the treatment of diphtheria. It seems that a young man whose arm had been amputated, and while the wound was not yet healed, was attacked by diphtheria, and instead of the usual symptoms and results following, the disease expended itself in an attack upon the stump of the amputated arm. Of course it was more easily managed there than if it had appeared as usual by the formation of a false membrane in the throat. Acting on the idea presented by this phase of the disease, a physician who was called to a case of diphtheria, applied a blister to the chest of his patient with a most favorable and gratifying result, the peculiarities of the disease manifesting themselves there instead of the throat.

SOUTHERN STATESMANSHIP.

Its Stupidity and Fatal Blunders.

Colonel Clark E. Carr, of Galesburg, delivered an address at the soldiers' reunion at Princeville, Ill., on the 2d instant, in which he thus paid his respects to the short-sightedness of so-called Southern statesmanship:

We have been accustomed to hear and talk of Southern statesmanship. Since the days of the Fathers of the Republic, Southern statesmen have been so few that you need not use all the fingers of one hand to count them. In our own day there have been none. Alexander H. Stephens is the only living Southerner who has any claim to be called a statesman, and he has too often yielded his conviction to popular clamor to be entitled to the name. If one looks up and reads the history of the men who have taken the lead in Southern affairs in the last quarter of a century, he cannot fail to be impressed with their lack of wisdom and of foresight. They seem all the time to have been groping in darkness, while the whole world was illuminated with celestial light.

They could not discern the sign of the times. It was clear a hundred years ago to the discerning mind that the days of slavery were numbered. Washington realized it, Jefferson realized it, and so did all the great statesmen who founded the Republic. The decision of Lord Mansfield in the Somerset case in 1771, celebrated by Cowper in his majestic verse,

> "Slaves cannot breathe in England;
> If their lungs receive our air
> That moment they are free.
> They touch our country and their shackles fall."

was the voice of the civilized world speaking through the court, heralding the inevitable overthrow of slavery. The world had come to realize how barbarous and cruel it was, and its doom was sealed. If there had been Southern statesmen, they, too would have comprehended the situation and prepared for the inevitable. They would have seconded the efforts for gradual emancipation, and there would have been no war, no sudden disorganization of society. They would have continued their laborers among them just the same as before, except that they would have paid the negro for his work, and he would have been obliged to have supported himself. It is really curious to read the speeches of Southern men in both houses of Congress from 1850 to 1860.

To illustrate how utterly absurd and ridiculous was "Southern statesmanship" it is only necessary to quote from a specimen speech made in the Senate of the United States, by J. H. Hammond, Senator from South Carolina, on the 4th of March, 1858. He said, "Would any sane nation make war on cotton? Without firing a gun, without drawing a sword, should they make war on us we could bring the whole world to our feet. * * What would happen if no cotton was furnished for three years? * * No, you dare not make war on cotton. No power on earth dares to make war upon it. Cotton is king."

This was reiterated in every Southern paper and by every Southern orator. The most complete and conclusive answer was made to it about the time of the firing upon Ft. Sumter. A Charleston dealer telegraphed to a commission merchant in New York: "Send me at once a thousand barrels of flour". In less than half an hour he received the reply: "Eat your cottom, damn you!"

But there has been, if possible, more conspicuous evidence of the entire absence of statesmanship in the South since the war than before. Never was there such magnanimity shown to a conquered people as that displayed by the victorious Union soldier. When Germany had France at her feet as the result of her conquest in 1871, she exacted not only two of the fairest provinces, but required the conquered Empire, after having paid the expenses of her own war, to also pay expenses incurred by the Germans. Before the German would withdraw he was paid by the French five milliards of frances, $1,000,000,000, but, notwithstanding the great burden, France paid the debt, and perhaps was never more prosperous than she is to day. There are statesmen in France.

When you, the soldiers of the Republic, had the South at your feet, you asked no indemnity, but simply said go back to your homes and keep the peace, build up the waste places, recover as rapidly as possible from the ravages of war. And you took upon yourselves a great burden of debt, every dollar of which in justice and equity you might have assessed upon those who were responsible for it.

We hoped, after the magnanimity shown to the rebellious people, that they would profit by their mistakes and shortsightedness, and address themselves to the task of retrieving their lost fortunes. We fondly hoped that they would adjust themselves to the new order of things brought about by the destruction of slavery. How completely have we been disappointed!

The soldiers of the Confederacy had scarcely returned to their homes before they commenced a raid upon the only people who could bring any capital among them. The Union soldier, who had shown them such magnanimity, who has the same right to emigrate to Mississippi or Louisiana, as to Iowa or Nebraska, was denounced as a carpet-bagger and driven out. The Northern men who emigrated with their money and their brawn to the Southern States, and who would have made them as prosperous as Illinois and Iowa were proscribed and persecuted until obliged to flee. Emigration from the North, which promised so much, was entirely stopped. The negro, the last hope of the cotton states, has been proscribed, persecuted, whipped, murdered, in short, bulldozed to such an extent that he is fleeing to the Northwestern States. When he is gone it is difficult to foretell what will become of that country.

In most of the Southern States a majority of the voters are practically disfranchised. I need not give a history of the outrages perpetrated. The recent murder of a citizen of Yazoo county, in Mississippi, because he bolted the regular bull-dozers' ticket, and became an independent candidate, is only a conspicuous instance of what has been happening ever since the war.

The most remarkable thing connected with all this is the fact that no conspicuous Southern man, holding a position of prominence, has denounced it, and there has scarcely been an effort to change the condition of things. It proves that there are no statesmen in the South. Statesmanship there is a lost art, if it ever existed. As they are now going on with their repudiation of public and private indebtedness, with their cowardly assassinations and midnight burnings, with their persecution of every liberal and generous sentiment, they must very soon relapse into the barbarism and gloom of the middle ages. It is questionable to-day whether the petty States of Mexico and South America do not surpass Mississippi in wealth, intelligence and refinement. It is a deplorable condition of affairs in a State of the American Republic.

[Mr. Nasby sends us this very short note, which must be accepted in lieu of his regular lucubrations. It is very short, but is much to the point.]

On the road from Louisville to Cincinnati, Sept. 1. 1879.—I wrote, in the cars, my neshuns uv the eggistin situoashun, but gittin out to take a drink and brace up my Dimocrisy (Dim ocrisy needs a heep uv bracin up jist now), sum onmittigated miscreant stole em. They wuz gone when I returned, and yoo won't git em.

But this is the substance uv wat I sed. Wat the South wants now is to be let alone. The South wants to be considered ez individule states, and not ez parts uv a Nashen. The South insists that she hez the rite to secede, the same ez she alluz hed, and that the late War did't settle nothin only that the North hed more men then the South, and cood do more fitin to the square mile. That wuz all. We are just ez we wuz afore the onpleasantnis commenst, and are prepared, now ez then, to take charge uv the Government, which we perpose to do. We are willin the Northern Dimocrisy shol hev the offises that be long to em, but such ez are nessary to be yoosed in formin polisies and sich, we must control. In short, We are the Government. Next week I shell elaborate these idees, and present em in conseketive shape.

"Jim" Blaine's Way

Secretary Sherman spoke recently to 10,000 people on the college grounds at Waterville, Me. While he was speaking, Senator Blaine was moving around among the crowd, sitting under the trees with the farmers, and lounging in their wagons with them. One of his more intimate friends brought up a bashful farmer. "Senator," said he, "I want to make you acquainted with Mr. Fergeson, of such-and-such a township." "Why!" exclaimed Blaine, jumping up and grasping the farmer by the hand, "I don't need to be introduced to Mr. Fergeson, unless he has forgotten me. The last time I saw you," he continued squinting his eye up at the farmer in a way that is peculiar to him, "you drove me with your team across from Albion to Waterville, and a mighty good team you had. Did you ever break that off-horse of jumping? Let's see, that was in 1869. I'll never forget that ride. How are Mrs. Fergeson and the girls? Did that boy of yours ever make out anything with his patent?" And that is he way he "gets them" down in Maine.

DE KALB, MISS., Sept. 10.—In the trial of Henry J. Gully, for the murder of Cornelia Chisholm, the prosecution at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon rested its case. The object of the prosecution has been to establish conspiracy on the part of defendant and others to kill Chisholm. Gilmer and Rosenbaum, and in carrying it into effect killed Cornelia and others. The attempt was made to show that on the night after the burial of John W. Gully, a meeting of the conspirators was held at the gin-house of Jno Gully to mature plans for carrying the conspiracy into effect. But some of the states witnesses testified that the object of that meeting was nothing more than to discuss the practicability of a body of citizens going to DeKalb the following day, to assist in the arrest of Chisholm, and of others charged with the murder of John W. Gully, should they resist and assistance be necessary.

Among the declarations made after the killing of Chisholm, going to show conspiracy, was the declaration of defendant, that "we have done what we came to do, and if there is any hanging to be done, here is my neck."

The testimony of the defense tends to contradict some of the material statements of witnesses for the prosecution, as to the firing in the jail; who shot Cornelia and Judge Chisholm, what parties in the crowd had guns, the actions of defendant while in jail during the firing, and the relative position of all parties.

C. C. Stewart, juryman, has been ill since adjournment last night, and on that account it was impossible to proceed with the trial to day. It was hoped he would recover sufficiently this afternoon to allow the case to proceed. The defense has a number of witnesses to testify on other points brought out by the prosecution.

TAMMANY ON ITS EAR.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 10.—The scene presented by the streets this morning was a very gay and animated one, the buildings on every hand being handsomely decorated with flags and festoons of evergreens, while the sidewalks were thronged with people already gathering to witness the ceremonies of the day. The sky was bright, but by 11 o'clock became overcast and threatened rain. Thousands of people from abroad, from Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Indiana, Michigan and Illinois are here.

The center of attraction was the Grand Hotel, where the President and Mrs. Hayes, Gen. Sherman and Lieut. Gen. Sheridan are stopping. Mrs. Hayes, accompanied by Birchard Hayes, made early calls on old friends. Gen. Sherman also was busy in a like manner. From 10 to 11 the President received friends in his apartments. Among the callers were ex-Governor Jacob D. Cox, Hon Aaron F. Perry, Hon. William S. Groesbeck, Lieut. Gen. Sheridan, Gen Forsythe, Hon. H. E. Goshorn. At 11 o'clock the general reception began, and lasted for an hour and half, during which vast throngs were presented to the President and Mrs. Hayes. At 2 o'clock the distinguished guests took their places in the procession, which was under the direction of Col. Leopold Markbreit, of the Cincinnati Volksblatt, as Grand Marshal.

Arriving at the Exposition Building, the Presidential party were escorted to their places on the stage, where the formal opening ceremonies took place. Gov. Bishop made the opening address, tracing the history of the grounds now covered by the Exposition buildings from the time of their purchase by the city in 1858, up to the present time.

President Pendleton, of the Exposition Board, followed in an address of welcome. In the course of his remarks he recalled the incident that the Governor of Ohio, who opened the first Cincinnati Exposition, attends the opening of the seventh as President of the United States. He paid a touching tribute to Reuben R Springer, to whose generosity the city is largely indebted for the permanent buildings for the Exposition.

President Hayes then responded to Mr. Pendleton as follows:

"MR. PRESIDENT—The seventh Cincinnati Industrial Exposition is held at a most auspicious period in the commercial history of our country. The great business depression which followed the financial crisis of 1873, after five long and anxious years of distress, embarrassment and bankruptcy, has at last been succeeded by a revival of prosperity, which is surely and rapidly extending to every branch of useful industry. With all values measured and steadied by a currency which is worth its face in the markets of the world; with business no longer perplexed and crippled by an uncertain and fluctuating standard, with credit, which, according to Daniel Webster, is the vital air of modern commerce, upon a sound and stable basis; with restored hopefulness and confidence, shared alike by the capitalist, by the business man, and by the laborer; with agricultural crops and products abundant and readily saleable at fair prices, with our manufactures seeking and finding a market in foreign countries to an extent never known before, with our national burdens of debt, expenditure and taxation becoming every year less difficult to manage and carry, with our country maintaining honorable and peaceful relations with all mankind, the merchants, the manufacturers and the workingmen of Cincinnati may well be congratulated that at such a time their countrymen have assembled from far and near to enjoy and to be instructed by this great exhibition.

"We thank you for your invitation, which we, in such countless numbers, have accepted, for your hospitality and for your welcome to Cincinnati—a city which, standing, as it does, nearer than any other great city to the center of population of the United States, may be rightfully called the Central City of America."

SYRACUSE, Sept. 10.—The Committee on Permanent Organization unanimously agreed to continue Senator John C Jacobs, the temporary chairman of the convention, as permanent chairman.

The Committee on Resolutions met this afternoon and will finish their work in the morning.

The Committee on Credentials spent over two hours on the contested seats from Albany county, and agreed—19 to 12 to admit the Robinson delegation. As the question was one of succession or regularity, the vote of the committee indicates what disposition will be made of the anti-Tammany contestants. As they were not admitted to any previous convention, it is not likely they will be admitted to the present.

The canvass of the candidates for Governor continues to night, and there is a growing disposition to favor Gen. Slocum. It is even claimed that he has 196 votes without including the vote of Kings county delegation, who do not as yet announce their preference.

The addresses in the convention urging harmony are well spoken of, and it is believed the convention will do its work and adjourn in that spirit.

The convention then adjourned to to 9 30 to-morrow morning.

The Committee on Credentials decided to admit the O'Brien delegation from Dutchess county. The Kings county delegation stands firm against Slocum.

The report to-night is the candidate for Governor will certainly be either Robinson or Alcott. Another report is Robinson is stronger to-night than ever.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 10.—The Democratic State Committe remained in session till 2 o'clock this morning. The time was chiefly consumed on motions to adjourn and calling the ayes and nays on the part of the minority, consisting of anti-Robinson members. Finally a motion was made that the distribution of tickets for admission to the hall be put in the hands of a committee, instead of being left to the Chairman and Secretary. The chair declared this motion out of order. D. B. Hill, of Chemung, appealed from that decision, when a motion was made to adjourn, and the Chairman declared it carried. The action caused some excitement on both sides, each charging the other with the intention to pack the hall.

The Tammany Hall delegation met in their rooms this morning. Lieut. Gov. Dorsheimer, H. L. Stinton, John Kelly, Judge Courtney, David D. Field, Charles Brooks, Messrs. Buck, Cox and Smyth, all of New York City, made speeches. The tenor of the remarks of all was that they should enter the Convention, and if the renomination of Robinson was insisted upon, they should withdraw and hold another Convention. The possession of the hall is discussed freely this morning. It was engaged by the Chairman of the State Committee, and the opinion is it must be held at his order.

Tickets for admission were not issued until nearly noon. The galleries were rapidly filled, the adherents of Tammany evidently being in the ascendant.

Gen. Baldy Smith was greeted with applause when he appeared, and the entrance of John Kelly, Chief of Tammany, was a signal for long and loud continued applause.

The Tammany delegates were among the first to enter, and took their seats in the front of the hall, near the platform, each delegate wearing a blue badge.

The Convention was called to order at one. After three cheers and as many groans for Gov. Robinson, and many hisses and cheers for John Kelly and John Slocum, amid considerable confusion, State Senator John C. Jacobs was made temporary Chairman. John Kelly and Hugh McLaughlin, of Brooklyn, and Robinson were appointed to conduct Jacobs to the chair, and did so amid great enthusiasm.

Jacobs, on taking the chair, said he would act so as to promote an early and harmonious conclusion.

After the appointment of the usual committees, the Convention was addressed by Senator Kernan and Mr. Cox.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept 10.—John Shillito, the dry goods prince of Cincinnati, died at his residence at Avondale, near this city, at 7 o'clock to-night. His demise was a surprise to the community generally, for, though he had been ailing for two or three weeks, it was not generally known. The fatal disease was general debility and collapse of the vital powers, such as often comes in old age after an active business life. Mr. Shillito was about sixty-five years of age, and died one of the wealthiest men in the West.

ONE WEEK IN WALL STREET.

October 7th, 1878, Western Union Telegraph stock sold at the New York Exchange for 96 1 8 per share; October 14th, 1878, it sold at 86 3 4, a fluctuation of 9 3 8 per cent. in seven days, 12,000 shares sold on a margin of one per cent required an actual capital of $12,500. The same stock delivered at 86 3 4 gave a profit of 9 3 8 per cent. on the stock or $937.50 per 100 shares. On the whole 12,500 the actual profit was $117,187.50 or 9 3 8 times the capital used, in one week. This is a single case taken from the official record of the Stock Exchange, and shows how money is made so rapidly in stocks. Few people, however, have the necessary cash to put up in order to realize such immense profits as these, but capital in any amount from $10 to $50,000 can be used with equal success by the new combination system of operating in stocks which Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, New York, have established. By this method of pooling thousands of orders in various sums and operating them as one immense capital, shareholders realize large profits which are divided pro rata monthly. New circular contains two unerring rules for success, and full information, so that anyone can operate profitably. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. FERRISS---FERRISS

Decatur One-Price Shoe Store.

Goods Marked in Plain Figures.

ALL accounts agree that there has been an unusual demand for cheaply made or shoddy boots or shoes. It is a very short-sighted policy to buy or sell such stuff. In using these goods you pay out twice as much money in a year for your boots and shoes, and you never have a pair that fits, because manufacturers of the cheap grades give no attention to the fit of their work. We trust that people who buy shoddy work will turn over a new leaf in this matter and practice true economy, by making quality the first consideration of their purchase of boots and shoes. At the popular Boot and Shoe House of L. L. Ferriss you can get prime, solid and serviceable Boots and Shoes for as little money as you can buy cheaper grades elsewhere. His goods are made from the choicest materials, over improved styles of Lasts, graded in sizes and widths to fit the human foot properly, and no shoddy nor deception there. Mr. Ferriss does a one-price cash business, and can afford to sell very low. You can find the largest assortment in the city of strictly good goods at Ferriss' New Shoe Store, 11 East Main street, Temp just across the street from his old store and one door east of Millikin' Bank.

DECATUR is flooded with amusements this month. Numerous bill-boards have sprung up suddenly here and there, on which appear showy advertisements to attract the attention of natives and strangers. On Friday night the great Francis Murphy will lecture at the tabernacle; Tuesday evening, Sept. 16th, Sprague's Original Georgia Minstrels will give one of their refined performances at the opera house; on the 17th, the Buffalo Bill Combination will appear at the same place; on the 23d comes Batcheller & Doris' great railroad 25 cent circus and menagerie; and on that day begins the Macon county fair, which continues until the 26th; on the the 29th the Great London Circus and Menagarie will pitch its tents in Decatur, and last though not least in the list, is the foot race to come off at the fair grounds next Tuesday afternoon, between Downing and Brett.

That Dreadful Accident.

J. N. Loving, of Dalton, Ill., the "Pretext" of the Sullivan Journal, has furnished us with the following additional particulars concerning the dreadful runaway accident, which occurred in Macon township, this county, on Tuesday, briefly noted in these columns on yesterday: "On Tuesday morning, Sept. 9th, Mrs. Lou Toles and Mrs. A. S. Clark and a little six-year old boy, left Dalton City in a spring wagon and drove out into the country to get some grapes. About four miles out the team took fright at a rabbit. Mrs. Toles lost possession of the lines, and immediately climbed over the dashboard to recover them. The now thoroughly frightened horses reared up and kicked Mrs. T. in a fearful manner. She lost her hold on the wagon, fell to the ground and was run over. She is badly wounded and cannot live. The boy saved himself by jumping out behind. Mrs. Clark was thrown out of the wagon and sustained such severe injuries that she died inside of 24 hours. She and Mrs. Toles were taken to their homes at Dalton, Mrs. Clark remaining in an insensible condition until the time of her death. It is a most distressing occurrence, and the grief-stricken husband, Mr. Clark, who is prominently connected with the business interests of Dalton City, has the sincerest sympathy of all his friends."

The Indiana Excursionists.

About 600 people from the towns of Guion, Marshall, Bloomingdale, Leatherwood, Montezuma, Hillsdale and Dana, all in Indiana, arrived in Decatur at 11:00 a. m. to-day over the I., D. & S. Railway, Conductor James Conley in charge. The excursion was given under the management of the road, each excursionist paying $1 for a round trip ticket. The party had four hours and a half in Decatur, which were consumed in making a raid on the hotels and restaurants, and viewing the many points of interest in and about the city. The train will leave on its return trip at 3 30 this afternoon.

BUFFALO BILL, with his new and singular attractions, that form so strong a combination, cannot be denied as being one of the best drawing cards that visits our city. The rough, wild border life he illustrates, aided by genuine and untutored savages, is not without specific attracting power. The dramatic company, composed of some twenty odd people, are above the average that generally comprise a traveling organization, and sustained the different roles assigned them creditably. No doubt this, the last appearance of the combination, will be greeted with a packed house, as it has been awarded with crowded houses all during the week. —Baltimore American.

Buffalo Bill is announced to appear at the Opera House in this city Wednesday evening, Sept. 17. Tickets on sale at Abbott's. See advertisement.

A Successful Business.

During the past six months the general complaint has been that trade in business circles has been very dull; still our sales have steadily increased, which shows beyond a shadow of doubt that good goods, at low prices, are what the people in this part of the country want and will have. Our store is rapidly filling up with full stock. See those elegant new cashmeres, and other fall dress goods in the newest shades, unusually cheap. Lambert & Co, Popular New York Store. 10-dtf

A Pleasant Visit.

Several days since ourself and family had a very pleasant visit at the residence of Mr. Antoine Petzer, who resides about twelve miles northeast of Decatur, in Whitmore township.—Mr. Petzer is the happy possessor of one of the finest farms in Macon county, containing some 280 acres. It is a magnificent body of land, half a mile in width, bounded on the south by the Sangamon river, stretching north on the prairie.—This farm has many superior advantages, possessing an abundance of water and timber—natural drainage existing to a large extent, doing away very largely with the necessity of tiling. Mr. Petzer has his farm well improved, and seems to understand the science of farming. He does not raise grain for the market, but feeds it into stock, and exercises the good judgment of having his means properly invested in cattle, horses, hogs, etc., thus giving him advantages that he would not possess if he confined himself to one particular kind of stock raising. By a systematic system of grain and stock raising the intelligent farmer is enabled to utilize all the products of his farm, thus securing the largest possible income. Our visit to Mr. Petzer was very pleasant, he and his estimable lady, by their kindness and sociability, rendering our stay among them one of hearty welcome. Mr. Petzer and family deserve prosperity, and it is the wish of the REPUBLICAN that continued blessings may follow them through life.

FRANCIS MURPHY.

The Great Apostle of Temperance at the Tabernacle September 12th.

The management take pleasure in announcing to the friends of temperance and the public generally, that they have engaged the earnest, eloquent and gifted temperance orator, FRANCIS MURPHY, to deliver one of his most interesting lectures at the tabernacle, in this city, on the evening of FRIDAY, SEPT. 12th. Mr. Murphy has but recently returned from California, and everywhere he was greeted with crowded houses. His fame as a temperance speaker and organizer is not only national but world-wide, and people have traveled many miles to hear him in his pathetic appeals to drunkards to forsake their cups, reform, and be MEN.—Wherever he goes Francis Murphy preaches and practices gospel temperance, and many homes in this country to-day have reason to bless him and his noble efforts. The Murphy movement has swept over the entire land, and the fruits are plainly apparent, in very many localities. Don't fail to hear him. Let the people come in from the country and from the neighboring towns and fill the tabernacle. Remember the date, Sept. 12th. Admission to all parts of the house, 25 cents.

Strange but True.

There are many strange and wonderful facts presented to the people daily that excite their curiosity and astonishment, but few of these are as readily explained as the fact that Cheap Charley sells a No. 1 article of clothing at prices so low that they are not even duplicated by dealers in the largest cities. He is enabled to do this by manufacturing all his own goods, thereby saving manufacturers' and jobbers' profits, which is quite an item. When you want good clothing cheap, don't forget to call at Cheap Charley's.

THE Nation thinks it "remarkable" that for the past two years there have been no Democratic apologies or eulogies of Mr Tilden—that there has been no vigorous Democratic defense of him' —and that "the Democratic press is for the most part silent about both his defeats and excellencies" This is not "remarkable" at all. As soon as the last presidential campaign closed, Tilden closed up his bar'l, and that ended the interest the average Democrat had in him , and that interest will not be revived until the bar'l shall be reopened next year
